Voted by Wines of Chile as 'Winery of the Year 2016', Emiliana are one of Chile's most exciting producers and pioneers in organic and biodynamic winemaking. Since 1998, this Chilean winery has been producing award-winning wines from almost 1,000 hectares of vineyards in prime sites including Casablanca, Maipo, Cachapoal, Colchagua and Bio Bio. Their spectacular biodynamic vineyard and winery at Los Robles is a model that attracts visiting viticulturalists and winemakers from across the world. Emiliana's innovative and natural-leaning wines are made with great care and attention and the results are inspiring.

Intense, deep bluish-violet in colour. Its very expressive aromas recall red fruits such as raspberries and blue fruit such as blueberries. Notes of violets, chocolate, charcuterie, and leather appear as the wine opens. Tremendously smooth on the palate with good body and lush tannins. The very long finish ends with notes of liquorice.

Ideal with grilled meats, lamb curry, roast pork with plum sauce, or duck magret with spices. Also very good with aged and blue cheeses
